WHAT IS HAC TE?

Explore and develop intersections between art, science and technology to boost the digital transformation of society: this is the aim of Hac Te (Art, Science and Technology Hub), promoted by catalan institutions of great relevance to make Barcelona a global centre for research, training, dissemination, transfer and production in this field.

Hac Te is

- = A hybrid environment connecting knowledge and disciplines in art, science and technology
- = The interconnection of academic fields and different actors involved in interdisciplinarity
- = An open future for all society and a driver of digital transformation
